Dear Parent or Guardian,

Your child will soon travel to McDonald Observatory to participate in our Student Field Experience program with their science class and teacher. During the course of their visit, our staff may photograph students.

We use student photographs to help us inform the public, teachers, scientists, schools, and other informal science centers about the benefits of McDonald Observatory’s education programs. Some photographs may appear on materials, such as brochures, or on McDonald Observatory’s World Wide Web sites.

We kindly ask your permission to take pictures of students during the Student Field Experience program.

I give McDonald Observatory permission to print photographs or shoot video footage of my student for their brochures or their websites, and in other materials that help to publicize their K-12 education programs.
